Curie Club Membership and Donation Levels

Curie Ambassador $50,000 or more (may be paid in installments over 5 years)

- Donor Wall Recognition in the Thatcher Entrance and Curie Club Active Learning Center
- Curie Ambassadors will be special guests of Chemistry at the annual Spring Distinguished Alumni Awards Banquet, will be full members of the Curie Club, and will obtain special reserved seats at the Faraday Holiday Lecture. In addition, a named award for excellence in research will recognize superb research by a female graduate student ($250, annually, for 10 years).
- $_{109}\text{Mt}$: Named for Lise Meitner, Austrian physicist and co-discoverer of nuclear fission.

Curie Laureate $10,000-$49,999 (may be paid in installments over 5 years)

- Donor Wall Recognition in the Thatcher Entrance and Curie Club Active Learning Center
- Curie Laureates will be special guests of Chemistry at the annual Spring Distinguished Alumni Awards Banquet, will be full members of the Curie Club, and will obtain special reserved seats at the Faraday Holiday Lecture. In addition, a named award for excellence in research will recognize superb research by a female graduate student ($100, annually, for 10 years).
- $_{102}\text{No}$: Named by its 1957 discoverers at the Nobel Institute in Sweden.

Curie Founding Member $5,000-$9,999

- Donor Wall Recognition in the Thatcher Entrance and Curie Club Active Learning Center
- Curie Founders will be full members of the Curie Club, and will obtain special reserved seats at the Faraday Holiday Lecture.
- $_{96}\text{Cm}$: Marie Skłodowska Curie is the only woman to be awarded two Nobel Prizes, Physics (1903) and Chemistry (1911). Curium commemorates her accomplishments and those of her husband, Pierre.

Curie Member $500-$4,999

- Recognition in the Curie Club Active Learning Center
- Curie Members are invited to all Curie Club events including reserved seats at the Faraday Holiday Lecture.
- $_{90}\text{Th}$: Named for Thor, the Norse god of thunder, thorium was reported to be radioactive by Marie Curie.

Curie Student Affiliate $100-$499

- Inclusion as a Curie Student Affiliate and recognition in the Curie Club Active Learning Center
- Curie Student Affiliates are students (K-12, college or postgraduate, at any institution) who will receive invitations to Curie Club lectures and events
- $_{88}\text{Ra}$: Marie Curie is best known for her discovery and purification of radium, for which she won the 1911 Nobel Prize in Chemistry.
